Creating a Brand...When the Brand is YOU!

With much confusion around what branding is and what branding does, it's no wonder many professionals are overwhelmed. The simple truth is this - whether you are a service-based solo professional or part of a large corporation, you are your own brand - and everything you say and do shapes your brand (whether you are aware of it or not). Olalah Njenga, CEO and senior marketing strategist at YellowWood Group, will lead an interactive seminar. Visit www.MorrisvilleNC.com for more information and to register.
